

Against All Odds

© Marc Mowrey 2003

All Rights Reserved

Every sound I hear it sounds like you
Everything I taste it tastes like you
Every word I speak I hear your voice
Every step I take reminds me of your choice

I'm looking out for the things we shared
I'm looking out for you everywhere
I'm holding out for an act an God
I'm holding out against all odds

Every road I take leads back to you
Every move I make brings me closer to you
Every book I read has chapters of your life
Everything you left behind cuts like a knife

I'm looking out for the things we shared
I'm looking out for you everywhere
I'm holding out for an act an God
I'm holding out against all odds

You got your words off your chest and on my mind
Though we tried our best you're on your way and I'm on mine
You say too much time's gone by for sweet lullabies

I'm looking out for the things we shared
I'm looking out for you everywhere
I'm holding out for an act an God
I'm holding out against all odds
I'm holding out against all odds
I'm holding out against all odds