

Wary

©2001 Marc Mowrey
All Rights Reserved

Wary, very wary
No one wants to get burned

Weary, oh so weary
Could you find the strength to carry on
Could you take another chance on me

I know something's gone
I know how little remains
But you know we could build something new
'Cause looking out all I see is the only one I ever loved
that's you.

Twilight, shimmering
Ocean so deep
Wanting, ever wanting
Could you find a way to be free?
Could you find a way to be free with me?

I know something's gone
I know how little remains
But you know we could build something new
'Cause looking out all I see is the only one I ever loved
that's you.

SOLO

I know something's gone
I know how little remains
But you know we could build something new
'Cause looking out all I see is the only one I ever loved
that's you.